Bold ideas, given a sandbox.

Every great product starts as a spark. Zandtbox is where that spark gets a sandbox — a place to be tested, shaped and turned into working technology that people love to use.

This profile is an overview of the services offered by Zandtbox. Offerings evolve as we build new things — for the latest solutions and examples of our work, visit www.zandtbox.com.

10 Let's build

An AI and technology studio.

Zandtbox is a South African AI and technology studio. We build the tools, platforms and experiences that help businesses and training providers do remarkable things.

The idea behind the box

Our name comes from the sandbox — the place where you're free to experiment, build, knock things down and build them better. That spirit runs through everything we make.

We believe technology should feel exciting, not intimidating. So we take powerful tools like artificial intelligence, automation and the cloud, and shape them into things that are simple to use and genuinely useful.

Who we build for

We partner with businesses that want to work smarter and stand out online, and with training providers who want learning to be interactive, measurable and fun. Whether you're launching your first website or reimagining how your whole team learns and works, we meet you where you are — and build from there.

Curiosity first	Craft in the details
True partnership	Serious about play

One studio for every piece of your digital puzzle.

AI solutions Assistants, chatbots and intelligent tools that answer, draft, summarise and decide.	Websites Fast, modern websites that tell your story and turn visitors into customers.	Web apps Custom platforms, portals and internal tools built around your exact processes.
Digital learning Learning platforms and interactive courseware — a modern home for every course.	Business automation Repetitive admin handed to software that never gets tired.	QR & scan-driven solutions One scan opens a web app, a sign-up or an automated campaign.
Cloud setups Secure, scalable foundations — set up right the first time.	Gamified experiences Business simulations where teams learn by playing.	Ongoing partnership Support, improvements and fresh ideas long after launch.

Everything under one roof. Strategy, design, build and support from a single team — so nothing gets lost between agencies, and your idea keeps its spark all the way to launch.

AI that actually works.

Practical artificial intelligence — no hype, no jargon. Just intelligent tools that save time, delight customers and unlock what your data has been trying to tell you.

AI assistants & chatbots

Instant answers, 24/7 — on your website or inside your product. Trained on your business, speaking in your voice.

AI inside your workflow

Summarise documents, draft replies, sort requests and surface insights — plugged into the tools your team already uses.

Smart content & insights

Searchable knowledge bases, intelligent reports and content generated in your brand's tone.

1 Tell us the problem Start with the pain point, not the technology.	2 We prototype fast A working proof of concept you can actually try.	3 You put it to work Test it on real tasks and see the difference immediately.	4 We refine & launch Tuned, secured, integrated — and improved as you use it.

Not sure where AI fits in your business?

That's the best place to start. We'll help you find the one use case that pays for itself first — then grow from there.

Your hardest-working team member.

Your website is on duty every hour of every day. We make sure it looks the part, loads in a blink and gets things done.

Websites that tell your story

Modern, mobile-first design with your brand at the centre. Built to be found, fast to load and easy for you to keep fresh.

Web apps built around you

Booking systems, client portals, dashboards, quoting tools — custom applications shaped around your exact way of working.

Built to grow with you

Cloud-hosted, secure and easy to extend. When your business levels up, your platform levels up with it — no starting over.

FROM A SINGLE PAGE TO A FULL PLATFORM

Landing pages

Company websites

Online stores

Client portals

Booking systems

Dashboards

Internal tools

Learning that sticks.

Digital learning platforms and playful, AI-powered experiences for training providers — because people remember what they enjoyed learning.

Your courses, beautifully online

A modern learning platform that brings content, progress tracking and assessments together in one place — accessible from any device, anywhere.

Interactive by design

Quizzes, scenarios, challenges and game mechanics that keep learners leaning in — turning "have to finish" into "can't wait to continue".

AI-supported learning

AI tutors that answer questions patiently at any hour, practice that adapts to each learner, and insights that show educators exactly where to focus.

From classrooms to boardrooms. If you teach it, we can bring it to life — for schools and academies, corporate training teams and independent training providers alike.

Let software do the busywork.

So your people can do their best work. We connect your systems, automate the repetitive parts and give it all a secure home in the cloud.

WHERE AUTOMATION EARNS ITS KEEP

Admin & paperwork

Capture forms, file documents and keep information flowing between your systems — automatically, accurately, every time.

Customer communication

Instant confirmations, friendly reminders and follow-ups that never slip through the cracks — even after hours.

Reporting & dashboards

Live dashboards that show you how the business is doing right now — instead of a month-end scramble through spreadsheets.

Approvals & workflows

Requests routed to the right person with everything they need to say yes — with a clear trail of what happened, and when.

Cloud setups, done right.

Hosting, migration, backups and security — a solid, scalable foundation for your websites, apps and data, sized for today and ready for tomorrow.

One scan. A whole digital journey behind it.

A QR code is the shortest bridge between the physical world and your systems. We build what sits behind the scan — install-free web apps, sign-ups, automated emails and campaigns — so a poster, a product, a certificate or a wall becomes the start of something that runs on its own.

QR-driven web apps

Progressive web apps that open straight from a phone camera — visitor guides, product information, course companions. No app to install; update them without reprinting a thing.

Automated email & SMS journeys

Welcome messages, reminders, follow-ups and certificates triggered by what each person actually did — not by a spreadsheet.

Verifiable documents

A code on a certificate or document links to a live verification page — confirmed in seconds, with nowhere for a fake to hide.

Scan to sign up, register or attend

Enquiries, event registrations, applications and attendance registers captured in seconds and sent straight into your systems.

Marketing that tracks itself

A unique code per poster, flyer, pack or event shows which channel brought in every lead — with campaigns firing the moment someone scans.

Every scan, on a dashboard

Scans, sign-ups, opens and conversions in one live view — so you see what's working this week, not at the end of the quarter.

Demonstrable today, not a hypothetical build. The same stack runs our own platforms — and every flow captures consent and handles personal information to POPIA standards.

1 Scan	2 Engage	3 Automate	4 Measure

Play the business.

Interactive business simulations where teams run a virtual company — making real decisions, chasing real results and learning faster than any lecture could teach them.

Learn by doing

Players set prices, hire teams, market products and manage money — feeling the consequences of every call.

Built for teams

Compete or collaborate — leaderboards, rounds and debriefs that spark the best conversations.

Safe to fail

A true sandbox: bold moves and big risks, with real lessons and zero real-world consequences.

Progress you can see

Every decision generates data — so facilitators can measure growth, not just attendance.

Made for your training goals.

Shaped around your audience and outcomes — from first-time entrepreneurs discovering how a business works, to experienced teams sharpening their strategy.

From idea to launch — and beyond.

01 Discover We start by listening: your goals, your users, your constraints. No tech talk until we understand what success looks like.	02 Design Ideas become prototypes you can see and click — early. You react to something real, not a document full of promises.	03 Build Short cycles with regular demos, so there are no surprises — you watch your product take shape week by week.	04 Launch & grow Go live with confidence. Then we stay close — supporting, improving and adding what your users ask for next.

One team, end to end — strategy, design, build and support without hand-offs between agencies.

Proudly South African — local context, local time zone, support that speaks your language.

Plain language — honest timelines, clear pricing conversations and no jargon.

Joy in the product — technology that's exciting to use, not just functional.

Start small, dream big. Most great projects begin with one focused first step — a website, one automation, a single simulation, one QR code. We'll help you pick the step that proves the value fastest.

Put it in the box.

Have an idea that's been living in your head — a smarter way to work, a course that deserves a bigger stage, a product your customers would love? We'll help you shape it, build it and launch it.
